

UNM STARTALK 2017

Arabic in New Mexico: A Common Past and Shared Future

June 26-July 14 2017

UNM Main Campus

- ❖ FREE intensive Arabic course and extracurricular activities focusing on connections between New Mexico and Arab communities past and present (includes lunch!).
- ❖ Middle and high school students (grades 6-12 and rising freshmen) are invited to apply
- ❖ STARTALK is a federally funded program to promote critical language education

For more information and to apply visit fll.unm.edu or email Dr. Emma Trentman, etrentman@unm.edu

Rolling admissions until program is filled

Department of Foreign Languages & Literatures